

Dear FCC,

I am strongly opposed to lifting the ban on cross-ownership of media segments. Concentrating newspaper and television's presentation of information narrows the quality and variety of voices heard by the American public. Rather than seeming patriotic, as Michael Powell implies, it is an effort to control and manipulate the American public. We need more diversity in our news agencies rather than less.

Sincerely,

Robert Kammerer